There's a new bee at Bee School, but there's something not quite right. That's because Norman, the new bee, is actually a sneaky bear trying to get his paws on some honey! Below is an incomplete drawing of the Bumblebear – can you draw his face, add a pot of honey, and sketch his friends from Bee School?

Malala's Magic Pencil is the true story of one girl's wish for a better world. She once dreamt of solving her problems with a magic pencil. But in the end, she used a REAL pencil to help change the whole world.

If you had a magic pencil, how would you change the world for the better?

In the space below, show how you would use your magic pencil. Remember to use plenty of colour to bring your drawing to life.
