I enjoy sketching from nature and looking up fun plants and animals to fit into these Unfairies books. Here are some studies I did of the different creatures that live in the pond. Now it's your turn to think of some bugs to doodle – and maybe add some little fairies riding them!

CREATE YOUR OWN COMIC

Hi! I'm Huw Aaron, author/illustrator of Unfairies.
I'm going to show you how to create your own comic with my 3-step process!

Step 1: IDEA GENERATION

Before I start drawing, I always plan the characters and world!

How I plan!

What's your character's name? _____ What's the genre? _____

Where does the story take place?
Outer Space ☐ Back Garden ☐ Wild
West ☐ Your School ☐
Other: _____!

...and your villain!

Hero lives here...

...and the villain lives here!

Draw your hero...

This is how most of my pages start, with a super loose scribble that no one but me understands.

Step 2: ROUGHS

Next I roughly plan how the story will look on the page!

This is how my story will go...

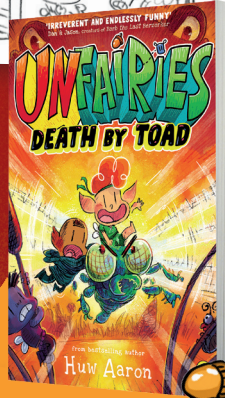

I then redraw it as a slightly less loose scribble that still only I can understand.

Remember to plan where the speech bubbles will be there's less space than you think!

Step 3: FINAL DRAWING

Once everything's planned I'm ready to draw my comic.

Now you can flip over this sheet and draw yours!

Some stories will tell you fairies are Sweet, kind, magical creatures. Well, those stories are WRONG. Fairies are Sneaky, violent and about as magical as Slugs. Join our unlikely hero Pip on a hilarious breakneck adventure! With jokes and action on every page, Unfairies is perfect for fans of Bunny vs. Monkey and Dogman.

Think of a catchy name for your comic book and write it here!

1 Start with the nose, then two lines and a bean-shaped mouth.

2 Next, a round-cheeked face outline and ears like a cute piglet's!

3 Big messy curls, and a headband ribbon thing!

4 The body is smaller than the head - like a spiky-bottomed triangle.

5 Pop some arms and legs on! Don't forget the wings!

6 And now a boogie: fairies love dancing!
